WOOD CABIN

How Life Would Have Been In 1864.

Visit the Wood Cabin to see and hear stories as Ladies and Children portray how life would have been in 1864. Reenactor children will portray orphan children who may have lost their families during the hardship of the war. Women will be demonstrating cooking, drying herbs, sewing, churning butter and the trials of everyday life during this very difficult time.

FREEMAN CABIN

As you enter the Freeman Log Cabin take time to watch a BIOGRAPHICAL VIDEO of Clyde Freeman who lived in this 1840's dog-trot cabin until his death in 1992. The Freeman Log Cabin never had electricity, running water or indoor plumbing.

LANGFORD STORE - Our newest addition!

The building that housed the H.A. Langford store was originally built in the early 1900s and was located in the Holly Springs community. Carol Langford Anglin donated the store in 2020. Restoration is ongoing and will be completed as funds become available.
